Remember the newness of everything? Those first classes in senior high, first parties, new friends, classes, and teachers? Everything was new and strange. Those never-to-be-forgotten days of play, work, responsibility, and friendship remain with us in retrospect.

DEDICATION

*Over there, over there!
To our boys in the army, the navy, the marines, and the air corps, all branches of the service. In the camps, on the boats, in the planes.*

Over there! In the cities, in the tropics, in the icelands, or wherever they may be, they know we are watching, we are waiting, and this book is especially for them.

When they face a bayonet, a bomb, or a gun, we should remember this is all for us, to protect our way of life.

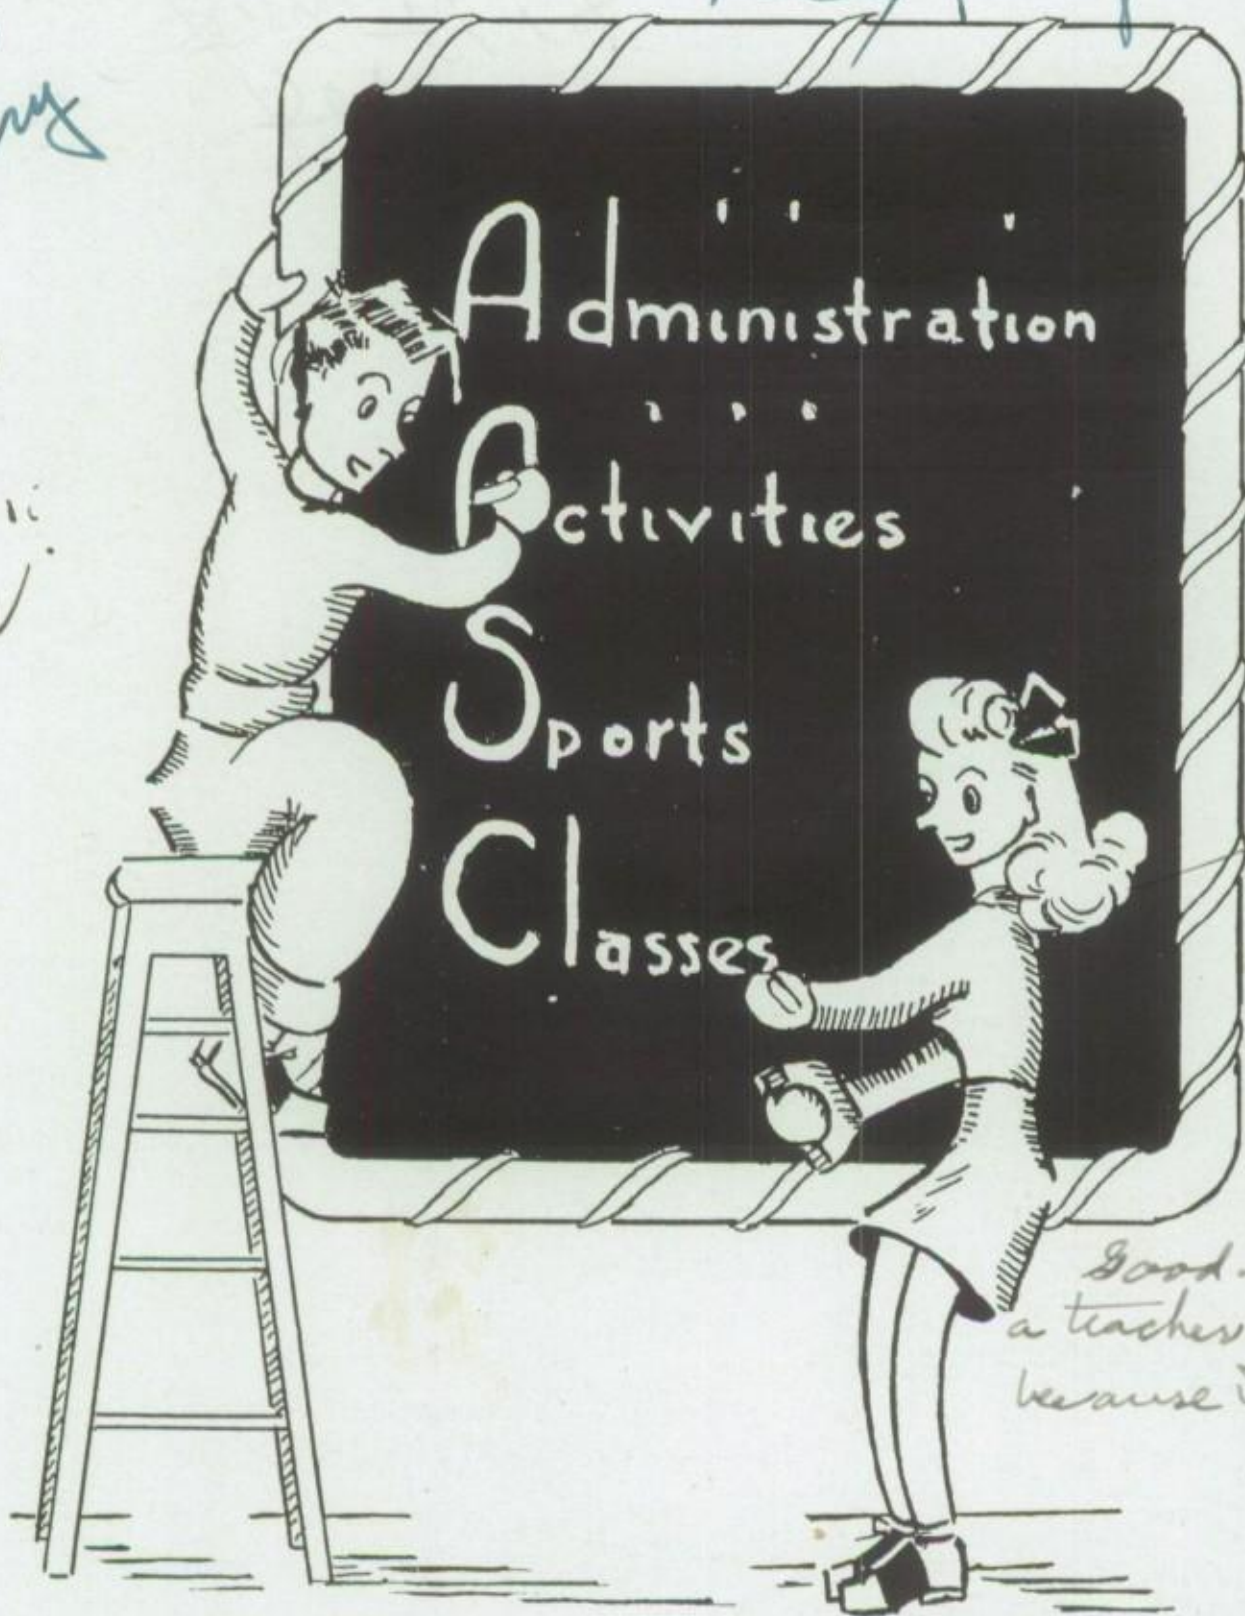

We should also remember some of our boys entered the armed forces soon after graduation; some left school before they had completed their course. All of them, before they had a chance to show what they could do and in the most unselfish manner, have never realized their dreams or fulfilled their hopes; but they are out there fighting and training—all for country, all for us. To them, with the dedication of this book, the 1942 Re-Echo staff would like to say: "Keep 'em flying," "Keep 'em rolling," "Keep 'em smiling!"

Whether appropriating money, buying school supplies, hiring capable teachers or simply deciding a question of school affairs, the school board is truly responsible in many ways for the success of our school.

Although most students do not know the members of the board personally, we would like to say "thanks" to these persons who so willingly gave their time for the benefit of our high school.

Miss Ruth Hopkins and Mr. Floyd McCune were the two new sponsors of the Student Council this year. The Kansas State Student Council Convention, held in Emporia March 27-28, was a success principally because of the assistance of the faculty.

Miss Hope Vandever was the only new teacher this year. Miss Vandever is dean of girls, teaches in the social science department, acts as director of the school's social program and as chairman of the faculty sponsors of the Girl Reserves.

Much credit goes to these officers for the success of the projects undertaken by the school ranging from aviation to knitting.

The students profited greatly through this work and look forward to another successful year.

A fifth successful year completed, and the Student Council has made history in our school!

Taking the leading part in the school activities, the council undertook the sale of defense stamps and bonds . . . promoted all school parties and the work of defense clubs; but the highlight of the council's achievements came on March 27 and 28, when it was host to the Kansas Federation of Student Councils.

How were they organized? Backed by thirty-two members, including four officers and representatives from twenty-five home rooms, they held regular meetings on alternate weeks and special meetings whenever necessary. The principal, the girls' counselor, two faculty members elected by the council, two selected by the principal, acted as advisors.

HI-Y

Another year completed—and Hi-Y has made great strides! What would happen to our bewildered sophomore if our Hi-Y boys did not get him in line, help him become acquainted with the school?

The club this year undertook to present to the sophomore boys programs to improve their personality . . . Junior Hi-Y assemblies were based on social relationship and religion . . . occupations were the main topics of the senior boys since they are faced with the problem of a future vocation.

"1942" was a venturesome, victorious year for the three Hi-Y clubs filled with activity, excitement, social fellowship—picnics . . . hayrack rides . . . and fun-nights at the Y. M. C. A.—sponsoring Girl Reserve-Hi-Y play and Carnivalita—preparing and delivering Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the needy.

Here's to the Hi-Y, and may its members always be true by promoting higher standards and ideals among the boys of our school!

All girls at Emporia High have the opportunity of belonging to the largest girls' organization of the school. Completely democratic, the G. R. finished another year with increased interest and many accomplishments to its credit . . . Remember the Mid-Winter Conference in October and the Salina, Wichita, Emporia Inter-City Conference in February? . . . the "Stag dances" and what a hit with the students they made . . . $100 defense bond that was purchased in order to help defend our country . . . annual heart sister week and the new acquaintances made . . . the annual Parent-Daughter program held in May . . . the money making projects—magazine sales, the Carnivalita—the G. R.-Hi-Y benefit play . . . the joy found at Thanksgiving time after distributing baskets of food to the needy?

Due to the splendid leadership of our sponsor, Miss Hope Vander-ver, the many new ideas that were tried have proved successful.

Do you remember who gave us one of the best assembly programs of the year? . . . The Burrough Girl Reserves, of course! The chapter, composed of twenty-two members, has done much under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. Lois Jaquith. . . . During their meetings they made a scrap book of famous Negroes . . . decorated the Mary White room . . . had a turkey dinner at the Y. W. C. A. during the Christmas time . . . sang well-liked Negro spirituals at the Mid-Winter Conference. . . . The president of the club is Lorentine

Echo

Where's that next week's copy? . . . See Mrs. Jaquith! . . . Get the press rolling! . . . Where's Mr. South? . . . Hurry!

The "Emporia High Echo" might be symbolized in the byword of newspapers, "Hurry." The hustle to get copy in . . . the anxiety . . . the ever increasing search for news—all are valuable for a journalist career.

But who can forget the "Echo"? Surely not its victims! Remember—"A Guy" and "A Gal"?—the feud between Snooper's Snickers and the Dunce's Corner—the Spartan's Spotlight?

This year all copy was turned in by the members of the journalism class which meets fifth hour under the able direction of Mrs. Lois Jaquith, who has charge of all copy. Mr. South was in charge of all business and of the printing department.

Hazel Lloyd headed the staff as editor; Barbara Brower and Dorothy O'Donnell, assistant editors; Harold Geery, advertising manager; and Betty Hansen, business manager.

It's been a lot of work but a lot of fun—with every member of the staff cooperating to make this year's issues rank among the best of the paper's history.

Re-Echo

September, October, November—Exchanging year books . . . probing through them . . . reading the Scholastic Editor from cover to cover . . . talks with Mr. Dillman . . . chewed up pencils . . . and bromo seltzer . . . and then a clue! The book took shape for we had found a theme at last. . . . December—the staff slave over their assignments . . . “ad” managers began to haunt downtown merchants . . . January—Mr. South returned after a month’s illness and we realized how much he had been missed . . . seniors were requested, urged and finally commanded to have their pictures taken . . . February—pictures were rushed to the engraver’s to meet the deadlines . . . pictures of organizations were taken and photographers were worked nearly to exhaustion . . . March junior sponsors selected representatives for editor and business manager . . . business manager meets advertising quota and lunges far beyond it . . . April—copy for books was proof read . . . last minute check-up was made . . . sections of the annual began to roll out at the Emporia Gazette printers . . . May—printing was completed . . . the lustrous red covers arrived from the Bechtold Cover company . . . books were sent to Kansas City to be bound . . . distributed the last week of school . . . business manager paid bills . . . Re-Echo staff retired to sanitarium. . . . Here’s to new, bigger, and better Re-Echo for Emporia High School!

The 1942 Re-Echo staff was as follows: Gloria Davidson, editor; Winifred Louis, assistant editor; C. J. McCoy, business manager; Bill Saffell, Virgil Hurt, Eleanor Randel, assistant business managers; Barbara Prier and Jean MacFarlane, organizations editors; Jean Burnap, copy editor; Dorothy McIntosh, girls’ sports editor; B. J. Green, boys’ sports editor; Carol Bronsema, calendar editor; Lorene Ziener, art editor; Connie VanCleave, typist; Jack Herron and Bryan Doles, kodak editors; Peggy Wells and Oliver Samuel, junior representatives.

Second row—Wells, Prier, Herron, Bronsema, Louis, MacFarlane, Zeiner.
Third row—Connie VanCleave, Davidson, McCoy.

Societates Latinas

Venimus, vidimus, vicimus!—"We came, we saw, we conquered!"—Latin? Thus answers the Latin clubs, which are organized by each class forming its own club . . . electing officers . . . drawing up a constitution . . . choosing Latin words for a name. Officers are elected twice a year so that students may have an opportunity to develop and use their ability in leadership. The meetings are held during the regular Latin class hour once every three weeks; the president and vice-president alternate in presiding at the meetings. Each student is given an opportunity to plan and participate in at least two programs during the year.

Fellow Latin students will not forget the good times they had at skating parties, line parties to the picture shows, picnics, and hayrack rides, or the joy they found in helping others by distributing baskets of food to the needy at Thanksgiving time. Cancelled postage stamps were collected this year to be sold for the benefit of a children's hospital in London.

Are all the officers for the year present?

Adsum! Shirley Straight, Jean Pyle, Margaret Montgomery, Homer Davey, Jean Tyson, Joan Anderson, Katherine Taylor, Bill Woods, Paula Creason, John Rees, Ruth Granger, Gene Bratton, Marie Brinkman, Barbara Bond, Carol Drum, Marjorie Wagner, George Keefer, Maxine Gunsolly, Carl Knouse, Junior Hutton, Beverly Honeyman, Ardyce Macomber, Lucille Steckel, Edward Jones, Lewis Keefer, Doris Butler, Nanette White, Carol Ann Wilcox, Bill Corey, Walter Rathke, Leon Austenfeld, James Walkinshaw, Bob Donnellan, DeWayne Spat, Joan Beck, Junior Ninneman, Ima Jean Varner, Bob Embry, Barbara Dabbs, and Clair Thompson.

The pictures represent the members in all five clubs.

Dramatics

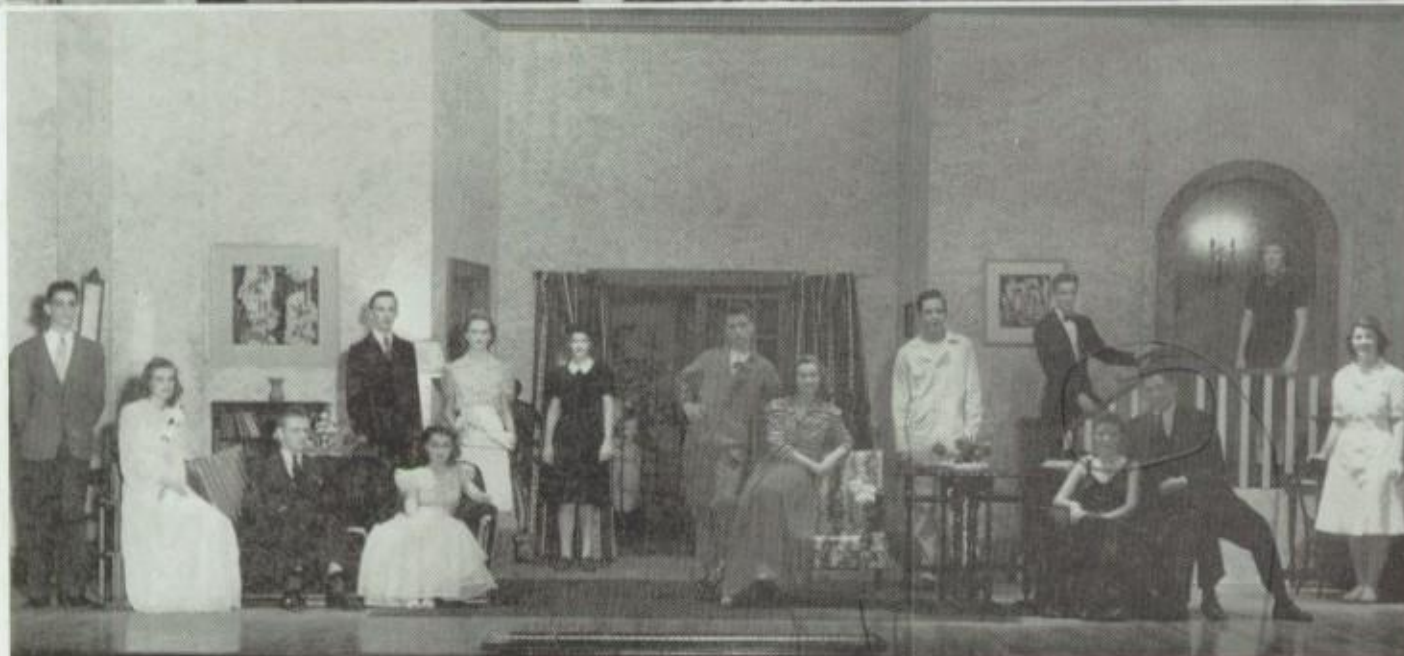

Grease paint . . . scripts . . . properties . . . a forgotten wig or a moth eaten toupe —all are suggestive of the sixth hour dramatics class.

Highlights of the year were the one-act plays presented in assembly: "The Last Curtain," "A Christmas Made to Order," "Jacob Comes Home," "Someone for Bunny." Remember "At the End of the Rainbow," given at the Girl Reserve Mid-Winter Conference; "Mrs. Harper's Bazaar," presented at the Tri-City Girl Reserve Conference?

Two big nights for the dramatics class were the nights that "June Mad" and "Sky Road" were presented, the latter being the senior play. Hours of toil were given under the capable direction of Miss Miller to produce these plays, which were received by an enthusiastic audience. And so closes another dramatic year for our high school actors.

The cast of "June Mad" was as follows: Helen Graves, Kenneth Snow, Julia Ann French, Bryan Doles, James Byrd, Mary Gayle Marsh, Barbara Prier, Darrell Stiffler, James Smith, Jean MacFarlane, Ira Jay South, Barbara Brower, and Glendon Iverson. The student directors were Eleanor Randel and Jean Miller.

The cast of "Sky Road" included Barbara Prier, Kenneth Snow, Eleanor Randel, Bill Saffell, Warren Keeler, Jean MacFarlane, Helen Graves, Juanita Kuhlmann, Lloyd Smith, Oliver Samuel, Glenna Thompson, Virginia Getz, Carrie Arnold, Betty Hansen, and Bill Pratt.

Industrial Arts

Beds, tables, chairs, lamps, chests—in fact almost any household furniture is made by the boys and exhibited each year in the Civic Auditorium.

Mr. George Lodle, supervisor, has charge of five classes in the Industrial Arts department. They are manual training, wood turning, advanced cabinet making, architectural drawing, and mechanical drawing. Much credit goes to George Lodle for the fine work these boys turn out.

If you should step into their basement domain you would hear laughter amid the noise of hammering, sawing, and busy work. For in the informal atmosphere of their classes these boys are happy in jobs well done in important work worth doing.

Future Farmers of America

From Kansas City to Eureka, from small farms to large ranches, our Future Farmers of America are known for their interest and fine work on farms.

The sixty-three boys enrolled in this national organization consist of four degrees: Greenhands, Future Farmers, State Farmers, and American Farmers. Each of these degrees is based on achievement.

The activities of the chapter have been varied and many. Our chapter was host to an officers' training school in September. The out-of-town activities consisted of a trip to the American Royal, to Barrier field day at Eureka, and many other short trips. The F. F. A. contributed much towards helping with the defense activities.

This year's F. F. A. officers were: president, Floyd Pederson; vice-president, Paul Richards; secretary, Clifford Kopke; reporter, Joyce Bersuch; treasurer, Douglas Powell; watchdog, Dale Hines; and advisor, J. W. Taylor.

ARTIST'S CONCEPT

Emporia High Orchestra

Many of us during first hour hear sweet strains of music from across the way. Of course, we all know that it is our own senior high orchestra.

We have heard it before at our school plays and we can't forget the Yuletide melodies they played at the Christmas pageant.

Also, from the organization, a quartet of violins played at the hospital during the Christmas week.

Few of us will forget "Elmer's Tune," as played by our own high school dance band at the Junior-Senior Prom. This group is composed of members from our orchestra and band.

PERSONNEL OF THE ORCHESTRA

Violins—Ellinor Brown, Betty Jane Morse, Lois Ridenour, Barbara Shaffer, Gloria Hayes, Ruthella Hawkins, Rosalie Phillips, Marilyn Heath, Marian Smith, Henry Cobb, Bill Smith, Laura Clark, Willys Fancher, Bill Hufferd, Arlone Garriot, Charlotte Hopwood, Jeanne Ramy. Viola—Fay Key, Hazel Lewis, George Willard, Barbara Hayes, Louise Miller. Cello—Betty Jo Hall, Margaret Montgomery, Beulah Smith. Bass Viola—Carol Ann Wilcox, Harold Moore. Oboe—Rhea Lindsay. Flutes—Paula Creson, Amy Larkin, Ernestine Mautz, Eberle Baldwin. Clarinets—Robert Warner, Jack Ames, Carol Drum, Bill Jones, Harold Morgan, Lois Johnson. Bass Clarinet—Dorothy McIntosh. Saxophones—Norma Jean Knouse, Bill Cochennet, Eugene Stair. Cornets—Helen Hollingsworth, Jack Herron. French Horns—Charles Jones, Barbara Kraus, Rosalie Askew. Baritone—Max Williamson. Trombones—Marion Plummer, Harry Telfer, Phil Woodbury, Merle Hayes. Drums—Bob Dabbs. Tuba—Rodney Holdredge, Norman McAdoo, Ray Fowler. Piano—Imogene Varner.

Emporia High Band

A shrill whistle, then a roll of drums, and out steps the Emporia High School Band led by our lively drum majorette, Norma Jean Knouse; three majorettes, Connie Van Cleave, Mary Jo Rose, and Dolores Totsche; and our director, O. R. Parker.

Flashing instruments, trim black uniforms with bright red belts, shining brass buttons, black and red caps. Few of us will forget what a vivid appearance they made playing at all home football and basketball games, as well as in city parades.

Our band of seventy-four members deserves much credit also as a concert band, playing everything from Rossini's "William Tell" to "Daddy." They won the highest possible rating at the district contest for the past three years and also went to the national contest at Topeka.

Besides school affairs, the band has been and is always ready and willing to fulfill any request made by other organizations.

Mixed Chorus

"I Hear America Singing!" Yes, our Mixed Chorus is a cross section of America and they sang this song at the Kansas Federation of Women's Clubs, held at the Civic Auditorium. This is only one of the many colorful occasions of the year featuring our senior high Mixed Chorus under the direction of Miss Hopkins. Devoted to music and thrilling to its various moods, these true music lovers made their appearance, singing beautiful Christmas carols at the Annual Christmas Pageant, but the greatest honor bestowed on the chorus was their help in the presentation of the "Messiah" at the College of Emporia.

Girls' Glee Club

The baton is raised . . . a hush falls over the audience . . . and a host of voices are lifted in rich harmony. So many girls were enrolled for Concert Girls' Glee club that two glee clubs were organized. The members were chosen especially for the quality of their voices and for their ability to carry their own parts.

Remember the group that appeared first on the assembly program at the beginning of the school year? Why, it was the Boys' Glee Club. This glee club is open to all boys in school and is a part of the Mixed Chorus. The club was organized on a different basis this year: full credit was given if taken five days a week and along with pleasure singing, music appreciation was added.

Working together and sounding their chords in harmony, the boys' and girls' glee clubs receive applause through the last encore.

Girls' Sextet - Boys' Quartet

Who gave singing entertainment at P. T. A. meetings . . . school radio programs . . . assemblies . . . various town churches . . . many of the community clubs? Who gave a fine performance at the Junior-Senior Prom? Why, you know—the Girls' Sextet and Boys' Quartet!

What a thrill they experienced when asked to sing at the American Red Cross benefit show at the Civic Auditorium in February. The audience received a thrill also. From sacred to classical music they were a hit; however, their special feature, of special enjoyment to the students, was their presentation of many popular songs at school affairs. The best liked songs were "Blues in the Night" . . . "Any Bonds Today?" . . . "Maw, I Miss Your Apple Pie" . . . and "The Marines' Hymn."

BLOXOM, "B" Team

Our Coaches

Coach Alfred Smith, as well as Coach Bloxom and Coach Koch, are several of the factors why we have been so successful this year in athletics. These coaches have won the admiration of all the students because they not only strive for victories over their opponents but stress good sportsmanship from their players as well. It is little wonder that "Scorchy" and our other coaches are respected among all high schools of this section.

Our boys this year, though not always in the winning column, played hard and well, disappointing no one. We had prospects of a fairly good team and when the call for practice came, thirty boys reported for the "A" squad. Seven of the thirty were letter men and the better part of the remainder were last year's reserves.

Although we won only four out of the nine games, the scores show our boys played better ball than this sounds. We scored a total of ninety-six points to our opponents' eighty-one.

The boys played their best game of the year against our bitter rival, Topeka. However, the climax of the season was the overwhelming victory over Burlington, of which the score was forty-six to seven.

At the end of the season, "Ob" Lowry was chosen by the Gazette as the most valuable player of the year.

The "B" team this year was composed mostly of sophomores with a few juniors. The boys played good football, not spectacular, but just a steady game. From the appearance of the team this year, the "A" team will have good material coming up next year.

So long, seniors, and here's to an even bigger and better E. H. S. fighting team.

Basketball

The basketball season was like a glorious wave with the Spartans riding on its crest.

The squad turned out for practice with four major lettermen and a nice looking group of last year's reserves. Both the squad and coaches worked hard, and they started their eighteen game season with the Wichita North Redskins as their opponents on the home court.

The next week they journeyed to Dodge City for the early season basketball clinic, and they had the opportunity to play before the watchful eyes of "Phog" Allen, K. U. coach. By the time conference play started, the "A" squad was composed of Wilson, Lowry, and McCoy, lettermen; and Woodruff, Walker, Wells, Creager, Martin, Cooper, Smith, and Geery, all reserves.

Good Luck.
Bully Barnwood.

In conference play the Spartans tied with Topeka for the championship, each of the teams winning three and losing one. For the tenth straight year the Spartans defeated Topeka on our home court. This year they won a hard fought and well deserved victory. Emporia traveled to Junction City for the regional tournament where they were defeated by Junction City in the semi-finals. If the team had won this game they would have gone to the state tournament at Topeka. The loss of Jack McCoy, regular center, after the first game with Ottawa crippled the team, but Creager filled his place very well. The "B" team composed of juniors and sophomores, mostly inexperienced in high school competition, did not have a very successful season, but they showed fight and there will be good material coming up next year.

Coach Alfred Koch issued a call to the cinder path and it brought forth a group of new men with only one letterman back. Handicapped by this factor, prospects didn't look so good but with the new tracksters practicing, in addition to the all around coaching ability of Coach Koch, our good record was held on the cinders for another year.

Golf

This year's golf team, coached by Wood Bloxom, showed a fine brand of golf, and turned in a nice record. The team, composed of Captain Jack Walker, Wayne Wells, and Gilbert Creager, returning lettermen, and Bob Jones and Frank Keeler, deserves much praise for its good play and sportsmanship.

Jack Walker, Number 1 man on the team, holds his berth very well. Some of the honors he holds are: Emporia City Champ, Country Club Champ, and he also placed first in the first flight in the State Caddy tournament at Wichita last summer.

G. A. A. in Action

These Spartanettes are truly an amazing lot of proficient athletes. They play basketball like hotshots, baseball like professionals, and volleyball like all stars.

In fact the gym floor burns under their feet with their own speed. In the great open spaces they are even better. They swim with beauty, play tennis with astonishing good form, ride horses with showmanship skill, and skate like Sonja Heinies.

What we are trying to say, dear reader, is that our E. H. S. co-eds go in for athletics in a mild sort of a way!

Officers for 1942 were Jackie Maxwell, president; Barbara Prier, secretary-treasurer; Ruth Northcutt and Thelma Dunfield, sports managers. Let's not forget Miss Ruthe Cross, who did much towards this year's success by her sponsorship.

Captains for all star volleyball were Brown and Timmons; players—Heffron, Gunsolly, Kraus, West, Foster, White, Whipple, Tholen, Key, Richards, Trail, Anderson, Dunfield, Golden, Butler, Getz, Taylor, Delgado, Miller, and MacFarlane.

King and Queen

Palm trees . . . soft blanket, green grass . . . a full, yellow moon and twinkling stars shining in the background . . . Hawaiian girls dancing to the soft strains of the "Song of the Islands" welcomed the honored, popular King, Owen Wilson, and the Queen, Carrie Arnold. The Queen's attendants, Eleanor Randel, Barbara Prier, and Helen Graves, wore formals of pastel shades. The King's attendants were C. J. McCoy, Robert Lowry, and Virgil Hurt. The Royal Couple were crowned by two small pages.

After the coronation everyone made way for the King and Queen as they led the way to the gym for the Coronation Ball with the King and Queen leading the grand march.

The hands of the clock rolled around entirely too soon for all of the students but it marked another successful year of the gala Carnivalita.

It is customary to think of the sophomore class as a blundering, bewildered group, but no—not the sophomore class of 1941-1942—we might say biggest in number and most outstanding in quality! They stood out and proved successful in all activities and organizations of the school, including athletics, G. R., Hi-Y, music, journalism and social activities. In general, their energy, enthusiasm, and poised intellectuality was recognized and welcomed by all. Their class president, John Rees, as the representative of the school, won first prize in an essay contest and was awarded a trip to Topeka.

May they as juniors still add to their long list of accomplishments. We're pulling for you, sophomores.

Scholarship Recognition

"Thru' four years" thirty-eight students of the graduating class made an average of G or above. Congratulations to all of you super seniors!

Members of the faculty under the leadership of Miss Marian Howard worked long hours compiling the list of pupils who had made an average of two points. A recognition assembly was held March 25, and Mr. William Allen White was the guest speaker. The annual scholarship banquet was held May 4.

The names of these high ranking seniors are as follows: Carrie Arnold, Gladys Blue, Carol Bronsema, Ellen Cochran, Jennie Collinge, Gloria Davidson, Marian Deivert, Ruth Getz, Virginia Getz, Helen Graves, Bernard Green, Maurine Hennessy, Marianne Hopwood, Virgil Hurt, Peggy Kells, Charles Larson, Rosa Lee, Humphrey Lewis, Hazel Lloyd, Winifred Louis, Dorothy McIntosh, Jean MacFarlane, Jackie Maxwell, Austin Needles, Ruth Northcutt, Barbara Prier, Eleanor Randel, Lois Ridenour, Joyce Roehrman, Rosa Schwindt, James Smith, Ruth Stafford, Jim Uht, Mary Alice Waller, Alice Wolfe, Ruth Yearous, Lorene Zeiner, and Walter Rathke.

Third row—Arnold, Blue, Bronsema, Cochran, Green, Collinge, Deivert, Getz, Graves, Rathke, Kells.

"The Night of January 16th"

No, not the play this time—but a very unforgettable event for all seniors occurred on the "Night of January 16th." The senior banquet, remember? Two hundred students, gaily bedecked in formals and dress suits, and many members of the faculty assembled on this night in the Grill Room of the Broadview Hotel.

As they entered the banquet room under the leadership of our toastmaster, Owen Wilson, the red, white, and blue arches of American flags on many rows of tables caught their eyes.

Their theme, "Keep 'Em Flying," was carried out—by the popular patriotic song, "Any Bonds Today," played by the flute trio composed of Gloria Davidson, Ernestine Mautz and Amy Larkin, and by the Number 1 hit song, "He's 1-A in the Army," sung by Jackie Kay Timberlake."

Who will forget that hilarious comedy, "Life Was Never Like This," written by Jean Burnap, Eleanor Randel, Bob Martin, and Wayne Wells?

After the class prophecy, which was last on the program, we wondered if it could ever be fulfilled.

To end this program, a very fitting song, "God Bless America," was sung by all.

To climax a wonderful evening in grand style, the juniors presented the seniors with a prom in the Senior High gym. The nautical decorations were really "super-special." With deck furniture arranged on the edge of the floor, a large glittering star hanging overhead, the couples danced to the music of the High School Dance Band. At intermission students flocked to the refreshment table where they were served cake and punch.

The hands of the clock slipped around to 11:30 entirely too quickly, and another successful junior-senior prom went down in the school's history.

Class of '42

The year of 1939 found a large group of bewildered sophomores starting out in their senior high school careers. This group of students is now the graduating class of 1942. They have gone far since that time.

Seniors, looking back over their last three years of high school life, realize that it has gone by far too quickly as they say regretfully, "good-bye" to their friends they have made, and to the good times they have had while in E. H. S.

Contemplating their first days in high school, seniors remember that first "come to the office at once" slip, the joy of making the school play, or another year when they took over the task of being juniors, the responsibilities of carrying out the junior-senior prom and making it a success, and lastly, they remember graduation night when they realize that high school life is the happiest time of their lives.

In Memoriam

Honest, loyal, sincere and dependable. This was Tom Telfer. Tom, who but a short while ago walked with us in the halls of E. H. S., who was interested in band and enjoyed boxing.

Death came quickly and quietly to Tom. No fuss, no bother; but he was like that. Quick to learn, quiet and mannerly in his ways.

A friend to all, the absence of his cheery, helpful attitude is missed by those friends, associates, and members of his senior class in whose memory he will live forever.
